Winter Frolic

The Frolics

The Frolics are intimate revels with one fantastic band in a mini-weekend of contra dancing. Winter Frolic features the fabulous Stringrays with hypnotic calling by Adina Gordon. Adina and the Stringrays will keep us in motion from 8–11 on Friday and again from 1:30–4:30 and 7:30–10:30 on Saturday at the Mesa Active Adult Center near downtown Mesa. Great band, great caller and a great hall!

The Talent

The Stringrays is a power group made up of master fiddler Rodney Miller, mandolinist Sam Bartlett, guitarist Max Newman, bassist Stuart Kenney and percussionist Mark (Pokey) Hellenberg. From master New England style fiddling, to awesome percussion, these five fine musicians love the juxtaposition of traditional music with modern styles to create textures and voices that inspire and delight dancers. Expect a high-energy weekend of dancing as the Stringrays bring their wildly energetic music to Arizona!

Adina Gordon calls dances throughout the country, delighting dancers with her energy and enthusiasm. Adina has called dances in 37 US states spanning all six time zones, as well as 3 Canadian provinces and Israel. She finds an outlet for her loves of travel, music, dance and silliness by calling and dancing throughout the US and Canada, creating joy and minor chaos wherever she goes.

Registration

Registration for the Winter Frolic is $70 per person, $30 for dancers 25 and younger. Space is limited and registration is required to attend. Registration starts September 15, 2015. Registration forms and information on schedules, lodging, transportation, restaurants, and more are online at:
