

BACDS Presents

An English Country Dance Workshop for Beginning and Intermediate Dancers

It's more fun when you know what you're doing!

When: Sat., Feb. 20, 2016 2:00-5:00pm

*Where: St. Mark's Episcopal Church
600 Colorado Ave, Palo Alto*

*Taught by: Bruce Hamilton

*Music: Bill Jensen & Stan Kramer

Cost: $15 at the door

Come join internationally-known dancing master Bruce Hamilton for a lively afternoon of English Country dancing. Popular in the mid-17th century, these dances are still being choreographed today.

Designed for beginning and intermediate dancers, the workshop will help you:

- Review and learn all the major figures
- Know what to do when you are confused or things go awry
- Master heys for three, rights and lefts, and tricky double figure-eights
- Hear and feel the music and let it guide your dancing

Bruce, a former president of the Country Dance and Song Society, is recognized as a top English Country dance instructor here and abroad. You won't want to miss this session as Bruce unravels intricacies and delights of English Country dancing.

Experienced dancers are welcome and encouraged to attend.
