Dance Roles and Experience Level

We will do our best to create a weekend in which everyone has a chance to dance one's chosen role and that focuses on the needs of new and intermediate dancers. Please identify the role interest and experience level that most represents your interest for the weekend.

Dance Role:

- I plan to dance the traditional ladies' role, or robin's role.
- I plan to dance the traditional gents' role, or lark's role.
- I plan to dance both roles and am happy to do either one, depending on the needs of the group.

Experience Level: (Based on the dance role you plan to dance)

- Frosh -- I'm brand new or nearly brand new. I feel very unsure about contra dance.
- Sophomore -- I've been to a few dances and have a general sense of what to do, but there is a lot I need to learn to feel comfortable.
- Junior -- I would classify myself as intermediate. I know all the basics, and can usually be in the right place at the right time, but still don't feel like an experienced dancer.
- Senior -- I am an experienced dancer and generally feel comfortable with most of what is called.
- Graduate -- I am a very experienced dancer and feel comfortable with whatever is called.

Food

Meals are designed so as to provide options for vegetarians and gluten-free or dairy-free eaters. If you have any other dietary requirements, please tell us about them. We will do our best to accommodate your needs.

CarPooling/Local Housing

Contra College is an urban weekend in Menlo Park and Palo Alto, accessible by train and bus, with ample parking. If you are not local, we will try to arrange space to stay with local dancers.

Fees:

The cost of the weekend is $120. This price includes (1) lunches and light dinners on Saturday and Sunday, (2) the Palo Alto Contra Dance Saturday evening, and (3) the Contra College Graduation Dance on Sunday afternoon. Full attendance is encouraged, but if you cannot attend the entire weekend, contact David Buesch to discuss the feasibility for partial attendance.

There is an early registration price of $100, if postmarked before January 21, 2020. If you need to cancel, please see the Cancellation Policy on the Contra College 2020 web site.

Please make check payable to BACDS.

Scholarship money is available. If you are requesting financial assistance due to being unemployed, underemployed, or a student, please write us a short description of your situation and include a check for the amount you can pay.
